BREATH OF WAR

The occupiers are destroying everything: classrooms, equipment, sports halls, dormitories, assembly halls and courtyards.

Despite the situation universities continue maintaining educational process, however, some of them had to move to the safer regions of Ukraine.

For example, the team of Karazin Kharkiv National University, despite the terrible shelling that destroyed the buildings of the institution, managed to restore the educational process and student activities. The university continues to maintain its primacy among Ukrainian higher education institutions in international rankings. The University had to move to western Ukraine.
